2. Phase II completes the course of training this week. One person has received full clearance and will be reporting to his office; [] others will remain attached as "graduate students". [] military in Phase I have received full clearances and will also be leaving this week, ending three weeks of training. In the "Hold" category, [] are graduate students waiting clearance, one is waiting military orders and [] will enter the new UTG/A class April 28.

STAT

3. [] students are expected for the class beginning April 28. [] are from the Military; [] of this group will be assigned for only three weeks of the course. STAT

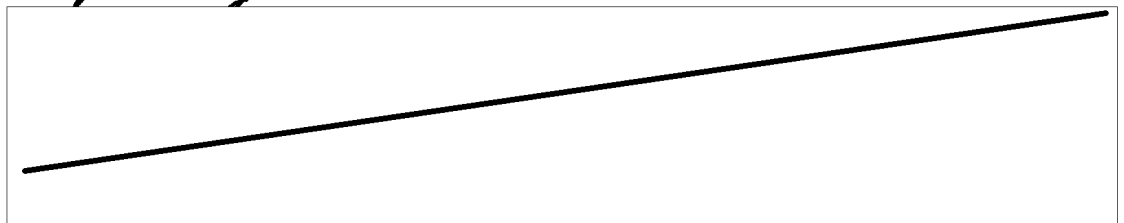

STAT

4. With the exception of the Reading Improvement Lab and the combined intelligence classes, training for the new group will be put on a tutorial basis. It is believed that the smaller enrollment will make this a more feasible method of instruction.

STATINTL

5. [] reports that [] training in the Reading Improvement Lab for less than six weeks is not practical. Therefore, the military personnel who are accepted on a three-week basis will not be given the regular course. This is possible that [] will show the Harvard Film Series to the people scheduled for only three weeks. STAT
